

DANGER. JUST AHEAD.

A Prominent Professor Speaks About the Threatening Things Abroad at This Time

The remark was made by a very prominent professor connected with one of the leading New-York hospitals

Continuing, he said:

"It is not these things that are troubling people, but it is the fact that the words of our old enemy, the gods, are being fulfilled out of sorts, menzo, have pains in the muscles and bones, have no appetite, have all interest in the world and wonder what is the matter. It is the grip, nothing else. The attack is not a disease, it is a process, a development. The attack must be met and repelled at once, or it is certain to run into something serious. I know of but one way to certainly avoid these troubles which are now afflicting the people, and that is to use the medicine which I have used, a good, pure, strong stimulant. Nothing of the ordinary kind, but something pure and scientific. For this purpose nothing has ever equalled Duffy's Pure Malt. Whether, which is recognized to-day by physicians and scientists, is the only pure, medicinal malt which is key upon the market."

The words of the professor are true, and they carry wonderful meaning to many men and women who are suffering with the first symptoms of grip, or else grip is in its advanced stages. For all such people we offer a word of advice, which is to take the best means to overcome these troubles, and do not permit any dealer to swerve you from your purpose to have that which has proven itself by years of use to be the best and purest stimulant in the world.

MISS PORTE'S DISAPPEARANCE.

MYSTERY CONNECTED WITH THE CASE—SHE WAS

OF UNSOUND MIND—FEARS OF FOUL PLAY.

The case of Miss Minnie L. Porter, of Norfolk, Conn., who disappeared on January 7, continues to be a great mystery. Her friends are afraid she is the victim of foul play. Others believe she has perished from cold and exposure somewhere during her wanderings. Miss Porter is forty years old. She is a daughter of the late Lucius P. Porter, who was the founder of the New-York Rubber Company, also of the Norfolk and New-Brunswick Hosiery Company. After her father's death Miss Porter came into possession of considerable money, and in May of last year she purchased a home in Norfolk and moved there from New-Brunswick, living without any companions except a housekeeper, Mrs. Pettibone, and the latter's daughter.

For thirteen years Miss Porter had been afflicted with a mental trouble. Her physician, Dr. Porter, recommended that she take long walks for exercise, without a companion. How, why, and when she left her home is not known, but about 8 o'clock
on the morning of January 7 the housekeeper discovered her absence.

Searching for her at once organized, and the community about Norfolk was thoroughly searched.
F. E. Porter, an uncle of the missing woman, offered a reward of $50 for her discovery, dead or alive.
Her appearance she had eaten a lunch at a Windsor restaurant, and she had been seen by a number of people, and that on the following day she was in the little village of Canaan had been seen in that Edward L. Gates, a cousin of Miss Porter, who lives in Charleston-ave., South Orange, was awakened by his sister, Miss Charlotte Gates, last Sunday morning, who told him that she had been awakened by a knock on the door. He called out, "Who is it?" and going to the door no one was there. The sister and her brother made an investigation, but no one could be seen. Miss Porter had been a frequent visitor at the Gates' home, and when her disappearance was reported, the neighbors, who were her friends, thought that it was likely that it was the same person who had rung the bell on Sunday morning. Being almost convinced of this, they also started a vigorous search in South Orange.

camping about that town, and that if the missing woman did reach South Orange Sunday morning she had probably fallen into the hands of some of the noted tramps of the Italian colony. It was known that she had on her person enough jewelry to tempt an avaricious person or tramp. The hills about South Orange would afford an excellent opportunity for such a crime, and it was believed to have occurred in that vicinity within the last few years.

Porter has friends at Morristown and New Brunswick. She has often visited Colonel Janney's family at the latter place. Colonel Janney is a well known citizen of South Orange. It is the friends believe that her body will be found in the neighborhood of Norfolk, and that she froze to death during the cold nights last week.

The alleged embezzlement by George M. Boque, an insurance agent, of Chicago, of a large sum of money, as announced in the morning papers yesterday, caused much surprise among those here who knew Mr. Boque as a very successful and popular New-York friends could credit the statement that he has been guilty of wrongdoing. Certain officers of the New-York Life Insurance Company, who knew him well, denied that Mr. Boque has any pecuniary interest whatever in that institution. The dispatches indicated that Mr. Boque, while in Chicago for the erection of an office building there, was remiss in the matter of payment of purchase money. The New-York Life Insurance Company has a building under construction in Chicago.

to their corporation, and whatever the purposes of Mr. Boque may have been looking to the final disposition or rental of the property to the company, they had no part in the plan.

The amount of the alleged embezzlement is $30,000. "This may all be true," said one of the officials of the company yesterday, "for it may not. But if true, the New-York Life Insurance Company is not affected, to a penny's worth of interest."
